Original Poetry.

JUSTICE STILL LIVES!

BY ANTONIA.

Freemen! what tho' the Day was not yours?
What tho' your labor is spent on the air?
Justice has ever, and still she insures
Success for the Right—so never despair!

Because this fair land is by tyrants now crushed,
Think you that Justice 's consigned to the grave?
Never! till Hope in your bosoms is hushed—
Then, and no sooner, each freeman 's a slave;

Will you calmly look on and see the flag that you bore
Insulted, and styled the Emblem of Shame?
Will you wait till in chains on the dark dungeon floor—
Stand off and hear tyrants curse Washington's name?

Will you wait till the despots have accomplish'd their end,
Or now will you boldly stand forth for the Right?
Will you list while they promise to you to amend,
Or hurl them as traitors from power and might?

If ever fair Justice gave this good land breath,
Again shall she come and revive our desire;
Again shall she wake from this torpor of death,
And pass o'er this land in a whirlwind of fire.

In the very defeat that you now have sustained
Good victory smiles, and bids you come on:
So unfurl your proud banner, fair and unstain'd,
And say to these ungodly usurpers, Begone!

And what, tho', ere peace on this fair land may dawn,
The bones of our heroes must bleach or the plain?
Thank God! they will know that the swords they have drawn
By those who survive will be sheathed without stain!

THE BABES IN THE CLOUDS.

AN AMERICAN TRUE STORY.

Just ten years ago there suddenly burst upon the western world a magnificent stranger from foreign parts, with "all his travelling glories on." It was the great comet of 1858, on the grand tour of the universe.

It seemed strange that petty human life could go on as usual, with its eating and drinking, trafficking and pleasuring, while that "flaming minister," on his billion-leagued circuit, was preaching the wonders of infinite immensity and power, and the nothingness of earth. The comet no longer runs his kindling race, like Vich Alpine's henchman, with his fiery cross announcing war and disaster.

Herald of battle, fate and fear.

He is on his own business, not ours.

Under the tail of this particular comet, doubtless many a tale of love was told—in the light of his swift splendors many a tender look exchanged. The astronomer coolly swept the starry field with his glass, unawed by the irregular night-guard patrolling the heavens, and the robber and murderer disdain the awful witness. He left us as he found us—joined to our mortal idols, wise in our conceit, weak and worldly and wicked, but no castaways of the universe after all.

We remember that comet-summer, not so much for its great astronomical event as for two singular incidents that more nearly touched our human sympathies, which will grovel in poor earthly affairs, even within sight of the most august celestial phenomena.

One pleasant Saturday afternoon during the comet's appearance, an æronaut, after a prosperous voyage, descended upon a farm in the neighborhood of a large market town in one of the Western States. He was soon surrounded by a curious group of the farmer's family, and laborers, all asking eager questions about the voyage and the management of the balloon. That secured by an anchor and a rope in the hand of the æronaut, its car but a foot or two above the ground, was swaying lazily backward and forward in the evening air. It was a good deal out of wind, and a sleepy and innocent monster in the eyes of the farmer, who, with the owner's permission, led it up to his house, where, as he said, he could hitch it to his fence. But before he thus secured it, his three children, aged respectively ten, eight and three, begged him to lift them "into the big basket," that they might "sit on those pretty red cushions." While the attention of the æronaut was diverted by more curious questioners from a neighboring farm, this rash father lifted his darlings one by one into the car. Chubby little Johnny proved the "ounce too much" for the ærial camel and brought him to the ground; and then, unluckily, not the baby, but the eldest hope of the family, was lifted out. The relief was too great for the monster. The volatile creature's spirit rose at once, he jerked his halter out of the farmers hand, and with a wild bound mounted into the air! Vain was the æronaut's anchor. It caught for a moment in a fence, but it tore away and was off, dangling uselessly after the runaway balloon, which so swiftly and steadily rose that in a few minutes those two little white faces peering over the edge of the car grew indistinct, and those piteous cries of "papa!" "mamma!" grew faint and fainter up in the air.

When distance and twilight mists had swallowed up voices and faces, and nothing could be seen but the dark cruel shape, sailing triumphantly away with its precious booty, like an ærial privateer, the poor father sank down helpless and speechless; but the mother frantic with grief, still stretched out yearning arms towards the inexorable heavens, and called wildly up into the unanswering void.

The æronaut strove to console the wretched parents with assurances that the balloon would descend within thirty miles of the town, and that all might be well with the children, provided it did not come down in the water or in deep woods. In the event of its descending in a favorable spot, it was thought that the older child might step out, leaving the younger in the balloon. Then it might again arise and continue its voyage.

"Ah, no," replied the mother "Jennie would never stir from the car without Johnny in her arms!"

The balloon passed directly over the market tower, and the children seeing many people in the streets, stretched out their hands and called loudly for help. But the villagers, though they saw the bright little heads, heard no call.

Amazed at the strange apparition they might have thought the translated little creatures small angel navigators, on some voyage of discovery, some little cherubic venture of their own, as heading towards the rosy cloudlands and purple islands of sunset splendor, they sailed deeper and deeper into the west, and faded away.

Some company they had, poor little skywaifs. Something comforted them and allayed their wild terrors—something whispered them that below the night and clouds was home; and above was God; that wherever they might drift or clash, living or dead, they would still be in His domain and under His care—that though borne away among the stars, they could could not be lost, for His love would follow them.

When the sunlight all went away and the great comet came blazing out, little Johnny was apprehensive that the comet might come too near their airy craft, and set it on fire with a whisk of its dreadful tail But when his sister assured him that the fiery dragon was "as much as twenty miles away," and that God wouldn't let him hurt them, he was tranquilized, but soon after said, "I wish he would come a little nearer, so I could warm myself, I'm so cold!"

Then Jennie took off her apron and wrapped it about the child, saying tenderly, "This is all sister has to make you warm, darling, but she'll hug you close in her arms, and we will say our prayers and you shall go to sleep."

"Why, how can I say my prayers before I have my supper?" asked little Johnny.

"Sister hasn't any supper for you, or for herself, but we must pray all the harder," solemnly responded Jennie.

So the two baby wanderers, alone in the wide heavens, unawed by darkness, immensity and silence, by the presence of the great comet and the millions of unpitying stars, lifted their little clasped hands and sobbed out their sorrowful "Our Father," and then that quaint little supplementary prayer:

"Now I lay me down to sleep,
I pray the Lord my soul to keep;
If I should die before I wake,
I pray the Lord my soul to take."

"There! God heard that, easy; for we are close to Him up here," said innocent little Johnny.

Doubtless Divine Love stooped to the little ones, and folded them in perfect peace—for soon the younger, sitting on the bottom of the car, with his head leaning against his sister's knee, slept as soundly as though he were lying in his own little bed at home, while the elder watched quietly through the long, long hours, and the car floated gently on in the still night air, till it began to sway and rock on the fresh morning wind.

Who can imagine that simple little child's thoughts, speculations and wild imaginings, while watching through those hours? She may have feared coming in collision with a meteor—for many were abroad that night, scouts and heralds of the great comet—or perhaps being cast away on some desolate star island, or more dreary still, floating and floating on, night and day, till they should both die of cold and hunger. Poor babes in the clouds!

At length, a happy change, or Providence—we will say Providence—guided the little girl's wandering hand to a cord connected with the valve; something told her to pull it. At once the balloon began to sink, slowly and gently, as though let down by tender hands; or as though some celestial pilot guided it through the wild currents of air, not letting it drop into lako, or river, lofty wood, or impenetrable swamp, where this strange, unchild-like experience might have been closed by a death of unspeakable horror; but causing it to descend as softly as a bird alights, on a spot where human care and pity awaited it.

The sun had not yet risen, but the morning twilight had come, when the little girl, looking over the edge of the car, saw the dear old earth coming nearer—"rising towards them," she said. But when the car stopped, to her great disappointment, it was not on the ground, but caught fast in the topmost branches of a tree. Yet she saw they were near a house whence help might soon come, so she awakened her brother and told him the good news, and together they watched and waited for deliverance, hugging each other for joy and warmth, for they were cold,

Farmer Burton, who lived in a lonely house on the edge of his own private prairie, was a famous sleeper in general, but on this particular occasion he awoke before the dawn, and, though he turned and turned again, he could sleep no more. So at last he said to his good wife, whom he had kindly awakened to inform her of his unaccountable insomnolence, "It's no use; I'll just get up and dress myself, and have a look at the comet."

The next that worthy woman heard from her wakeful spouse was a hasty summons at the door. It seems that no sooner did he step forth from his house than his eyes fell on a strange, portentous shape hanging in a large pear tree about twenty yards distant. He could see no likeness in it to anything earthly, and he half fancied it might be the comet, who, having put out his light, had come down there to perch. In his fright and perplexity he did what every wise man would do in a like extremity; he called upon his valiant wife. Reinforced by her he drew near the tree, cautiously reconnoitering. Surely never pear tree bore such fruit.

Suddenly there descended from the thing a plaintive, trembling little voice: "Please take us down; we are very cold."

Then a second little voice said: "And hungry, too; please take us down?"

"Why, who are you? And where are you?"

The first little voice said: "We are Mr. Harwood's little boy and girl, and we are lost in a balloon."

The second little voice said, "It is us and we runned away with a balloon. Please take us down."

Dimly comprehending the situation, the farmer, getting hold of a dangling rope, succeeded in pulling down the balloon.

He first hfted out little Johnny, who ran rapidly a few yards towards the house, then turned round and stood for a few moments, curiously surveying the balloon. The faithful little sister was so chilled and exhausted that she had to be carried into the house, where, trembling and sobbing, she told the wonderful story.

Before sunrise a mounted messenger was dispatched to the Harwood home, with glad tidings of great joy. He reached it in the afternoon, and a few hours later the children themselves arrived, in state, with banners and music, and conveyed in a covered hay-wagon and four.

Joy-bells were rung in the neighboring town, and in the farmer's little brown house the happiest family on the continent thanked God that night.

ROOSTERS.

By prof j. billings.

Thare is not on the whole horizon ov live natur a more pleazing and strengthening studdy than the Rooster. This remarkable package of feathers has bin for ages food for the philosophik as well as the simply curious mind. They belong to the feathered sekt denominated poultry, and are the husbands of menny wives.—In Utah it is konsidered a disgrace tew speak disrespeckful ov a rooster. Brigham Young's coat ov arms is a rooster, in full blast, crowing till he is almost bent over double backward.

The flesh ov the rooster is very similar tew that ov the hen; it is hard tew distinguish the diffrance, espeshly in yure soup. Roosters are the pugilists amung the domestik burds; they wear the belt, and having no shoulder to strike from, they strike from the heel.

Roosters, according to profane history, if mi edukashun remembers me right, were formerly a man, who come suddenly upon one ov the heathen gods, at a time when he want prepared tew see company, and waz, for that offense, rebuilt over into the fust rooster, and waz forever afterward destined tew crow, as a kind ov warning. This change from a man akounts for their fighting abilities, and for their politeness tew the hens. Thare is nothing in a man that a woman admires more than his readiness and ability tew smash another fellow, and it iz jiss so with a hen. When a rooster gits licked, the hens all march off with the other rooster, if he aint haff so big or handsome.

It iz pluck that wins a hen or a woman.

Thare iz a great variety ov pedigree among the rooster race, but for stiddy bizness giv me the old fashened dominique rooster, short legged, and when they walk they alwus strut, and their buzzums stick out like a alderman's abdomnal cupboard. This breed is hawk-colored, and has a crooked tail on them, arched like a sickle, and az full uv feathers az a new duster.

But when you come right down to grit, and throw all outside influence overboard, there ain't nothing on earth, nor under it, that can out-style, out-step, out-brag, or out-pluck a reglar Bantum rooster.

They alwus put me in mind ov a very small dandy, practicing before a looking-glass.

They don't weigh more than 30 ounces, but they make az much fuss az a tun. I have seen them trying tew pick a quarrel with a two hoss waggon, and don't think they would hesitate tew fight a meeting house if it waz the least sassy tew them.

It seems tew be necessary that there should be sumthing outrageous in everything, tew show us whare propriety ends and impropriety begins. This iz the melancholly case in the rooster affair, for we hav the shanghi rooster, the greatest outrage, in my opinyun, ever committed in the annals of poultry.

These critters are the camels amung fowls. They mope around the barnyard, tipping over the hayracks and stepping on the yung goslins, and every now and then crow confusion.

If enny body should give me a shanghi rooster, I should halter him, and keep him in a box stall, and feed him on cut feed, and if he would work kind in a harness, all right; if not, I would butcher him the fust wet day that cum, and salt him down tew giv tew the poor.

But thare aint noboddy a going tew giv me one ov this breed, knot if i know it; i don't think there iz a man on earth mean enough tew do it.

Roosters do but very little household work. They wont lay enny eggs, nor try to hatch enny, nor see tew the young ones. This satisfys me that there is some truth in the mythologikal ackount ov the rooster's first origin.

Yu kant get a rooster to pay enny attention to a yung one. They spend their time in crowing and strutting, and occasionally find a worm, which they make a remarkable fuss over, calling up their wifes from a a distance, apparently to treat them, but, just az the Lens get thare, this elegant and elaborate cuss bends over and gobbels up the morsel.

Just like a man, for all the world.

First Locomotive in America.

Major Horatio Allen, the engineer of the New York and Erie Railroad, gives the following account of the first trip made by a locomotive on this continent:

When was it? Where was it? And who awakened its energies and directed its movements? It was in the year 1828, on the banks of the Lackawaxen, at the commencement of the railroad connecting the canal of the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company with their coal mines—and he who addresses you was the only person on that locomotive. The circumstances which led to my being on the road were these:

The road had been built in the summer. The structure was of hemlock timber, and rails of like dimensions, notched on caps placed far apart. The timber had cracked and warped from exposure to the sun. After about three hundred feet of straight line, the road crossed the Lackawaxen creek on trestle work about thirty feet high, with a curve of three hundred and fifty-five to four hundred feet radius. The impression was very general that the iron monster would either break down the road or leave the track at the curve and plunge into the creek.

My reply to such apprehensions was that it was too late to consider the probability of such occurrences; there was no other course than to have a trial made of the strange animal which had been bro't there at great expense, but that it was not necessary that more than one should be involved in its fate; that I would take the first ride alone, and the time would come when I should look back to the incident with great interest.

As I pressed my hand on the throttle valve handle I was undecided whether I would move slowly or with a fair degree of speed, but believing that the road would prove safe, and preferring that if we did go down, to go handsomely and without any evidence of timidity, I started with considerable velocity, passed the curve over the creek safely, and was soon out of hearing of the vast assemblage. At the end of two or three miles I reversed the valve, and returned without accident, having thus made the first railroad trip by locomotive on the Western hemisphere.

A FREEHOLDER.—A gentleman who is rather given to story telling relates the following:

When I was a young I spent several years in the South, residing for a while at Port Hudson, on the Mississippi river. A great deal of litigation was going on there about that time, and it was not always an easy matter to obtain a jury. One day I was summoned to act in that capacity, and repaired to court to get excused.

On my name being called I informed his Honor, the Judge, that I was not a freeholder, and therefore not qualified to serve.

"Where do you reside?" inquired the Judge.

"I am stopping, for the time being, at Port Hudson."

"You board at the hotel, I presume?"

"I take my meals there, but I have rooms in another part of the town, where I lodge."

"So you keep bachelor's hall?"

"Yes sir."

"How long have you lived in that manner?"

"About six months."

"I think you are qualified," gravely remarked the Judge; "for I have never known a man to keep bachelor's hall the length of time you name who had not dirt enough in his room to make him a freeholder! The court does not excuse you."

APPLE SNOW.—Put twelve good tart apples in cold water, and set them over the fire; when soft, drain the water, strip the skins off, the apples, core them, and lay them in a deep dish. Beat the whites of twelve eggs to a stiff froth; put half a pound of finely-powdered white sugar to the apples; beat them to a stiff froth, and add the beaten eggs. Beat the whole to a stiff snow; then turn it into a dessert dish, and ornament it with myrtle or box.

A Poem in the Homeric Style.

On a pine wood shed, in an alley dark, where scattered moonbeams, shining through a row of tottering chimneys, and an awning torn and drooping fell, strode back and forth, with stiff tense-drawn muscle and peculiar tread, a cat. His name was Norval; on yonder neighboring shed his father fought the cats that came in squads from streets beyond Dupont, in search of food and strange adventure.

Grim war he courted, and his twitted tail and spine upheaving in fantastic curve, and claws distended, and ears flatly pressed against a head thrown back defiantly, told of impending strife. With eyes a-gleam, and screeching blasts of war, and steps as silent as the falling dew, young Norval crept along the splintered edge, and gazed a moment through the darkness down, with tail a wagging triumphantly.

Then, with an impression and a growl, in direct vengeance hissed, he started back, and crooked in body like a letter S, or rather like a U inverted, stood in fierce expectancy.

'Twas well. With eye-balls glaring and ears all aslant, and open mouth in which two rows of fangs stood forth in sharp and dead conformity, slow up a post from out the dark below, a head appeared.

A dreadful tocsin of determined strife young Norval uttered; then, with face unblanched, and moustache standing straight before his nose, and tail flung wildly to the passing breeze, stepped back in cautious invitation to the foe.

Approaching the other, and with preparations dire, each cat surveyed the advantage of the field. Around they walked, with tails uplifted and back high in air, while from their mouths, in accents hissing with consuming rage, dropped brief but awful sentences of hate.

Thrice round the roof they went in circle, with an eye upon the foe intently bent; then sideways moving, as is wont with cats, gave one long drawn, terrific savage yell, and buckled in.

The fur flew. A mist of hair hung over the battle field. High 'bove the din of passing wagons rose [illegible] when [illegible] of the strife and battle of the [illegible] cats. So gleamed their eyes in frenzy, that to me, who saw the conflict from a window near, nought else was plain but fiery stars that moved in orbits most eccentric.

An hour they struggled in tempestuous might, then faint and fainter grew the squall of war, until all sound was hushed. Then went I forth with lantern, and the field surveyed. What saw I?

Six claws—one ear—of teeth, perhaps a handful; and save fur, nought else except a solitary tail. That tail was Norval's—by a ring I knew't. The ear was—but we'll let the matter pass. The tale will do without the ear.

A BACHELOR ON SLEIGHING.—Things matrimonial are sour grapes to old bachelordom; sleighing is a matrimonial kind of thing; at least a good deal of matrimony has always followed closely on the heels of a good deal of sleighing. An old dried up, shriveled up, hard up old chap, whose heart never experienced the divine afflatus that comes with love, thus talks of sleighing:

"If you meet a couple, one of whom is a female and the other ain't, and the one that ain't is trying to meke figure 8s on the snow with a whip, and squirting tobacco juice into the circles, while the woman looks straight ahead or leans a little t'other way, it may be safely set down as a man and wife of some standing. If two youthful heads are bent down over some pretended curiosity on the robe, while the horse has the getting along left wholly to his discretion, this indicates the first symptoms of a softening of the heart and generally of the brain!

"When you meet a dashing pair, with a team that is equally on the dash, ribbons twisted all around the driver's arms, with a very long whip in the socket, they may be set down as somebody else's wife taking an airing with somebody else's husband.

"When you see a blooming young widow snugging up to a beaver overcoat like a sick kitten to a hot brick, this means a wedding—that's if the widow can only have her way about it. And so on."

WHAT HE THOUGHT IT WAS.—A passenger by a night train on the Hudson River Railroad tells the following: The train was detained at Greenbush for a little while, and, while waiting, a cattle train came on the other track and stopped. Such a noise has seldom been heard; the cattle bellowed, the sheep set up a bleating, and the hogs grunted, until the passengers were nearly crazed. One old fellow had slept for hours, but this noise awoke him. Rubbing his eyes, he listened in amazement. "Good heavens!" says he, "what's this?" Peering into the darkness without discerning any thing, and listening more critically, he at last satisfied himself, and set the passengers roaring by the exclamation, "Why, this must be a political convention."

ABOUT SO.—Some people keep their sterling worth in all changes of fortune; others, if changed in condition, lose their characters. Bars of gold are less prized than diamonds, but gold reduced to dust is valuable, while diamond dust is almost worthless.

THE FREEMAN.

EBENSBURG, PA.,
THURSDAY, : : : : : Nov. 19, 1868.

OUR MISTAKE.

The nomination of Horatio Seymour and Francis P. Blair as our candidates for President and Vice President, was what Talleyrand, the French diplomat, would have termed "worse than a crime—it was a blunder."

We were quite as well satisfied before the election as since, that a majority of the legal vote of the United States was Democratic and Conservative, and that all we needed to insure success was a ticket upon which all the Democratic and Conservative force could have been concentrated. This might easily have been done. Grant himself was a Democrat, and is a Conservative. His sympathies never was, never can be, with the Radicals.

But leading Democrats of the ultra school exerted all their powers of centrifugal attraction to repel him from our organization. And yet, these same men knew that without his name the Radicals had not a shadow of hope for success. They (the Radicals) put him in training and made him their candidate.

Even Grant, however, could have been defeated if the New York Convention had put forward a different ticket from the one nominated. Had General Winfield Scott Hancock been nominated for President, with a statesman like Hendricks or Doolittle, or a soldier like Ewing or Morgan, for Vice President, the result would have been a success instead of a defeat.

Hancock's military career, though in a subordinate position, had been more successful, more brilliant, than even that of Grant. Besides, he has shown high administrative powers since the close of the war, and was one of the few military men who had recognized the just distinction between civil and military power.

And he could have been nominated!—The Pennsylvania delegation could have secured that. Maine, Louisiana, Texas, and other States, had declared for him, but the colonels of Pennsylvania repelled still other States from his support, and prevented his nomination. That action, we verily believe, gave the Radicals the President.

The nomination of Mr. Seymour was entirely against the judgment of that gentleman himself. He regarded it at the time as a mistake, and never since ceased to regard it as such.

It is true no candidate ever passed the ordeal of a campaign with more credit to himself and his friends than did Gov. Seymour. Though the election resulted in his defeat, no man to-day occupies a higher position before his countrymen. In this respect, if in no other, the Democrats may well be proud of their candidate.

Even as it is, however, the election demonstrates clearly that with all the legal votes polled—with all the States voting—the Democrats are to-day sufficiently powerful to control the destinies of this great country. The only complaint that we make is that the Democrats did not make their forces available, at this time, in the choice of candidates for the highest offices in the gift of the people.

"IS IT FAIR?—J. F. Campbell, Esq., of the Altoona Vindicator, having been prosecuted for libel by Robert W. Hunt, of Johnstown, The Alleghanian, which would be decent if it was not Radical, endeavors to prejudice the defendant's case before the jury who are to try it."—Freeman.

The editor of the Freeman, who is a good lawyer if not a great one, and who always looks to the end to be attained without particularly considering the means used, probably put forth the above as a bid for a "retainer."—Alleghanian.

We have tried to treat the young men of the Alleghanian with fairness. We passed through the canvass, bitter as it was, without any angry controversy, and we desire none now. But with that disregard for the "supremacy of the law" which has become so prevalent in these latter days, that sheet seeks to make a machine of the jury box.

During the heat of the campaign the Altoona Vindicator, on the representations of a man named Coleman, published an article reflecting on a certain Hunt. This was made the subject of a prosecution by Hunt after the election. Then the Alleghanian undertakes to make itself a lever to procure a conviction and embarrass a brother publisher. We thought this wrong and said so. That paper, without attempting to justify itself, has a weak fling at the editor of the Freeman as a lawyer, and charges upon us what it knows we are incapable of doing. Well, it don't make any difference.

The Hollidaysburg Register, the leading Radical organ of Blair county, characterizes the action of this fellow Hunt as a small attempt to interfere with the liberty of the press. So the Alleghanian stands alone in its attempt to damage its own craft.

THE election of Governor Hoffman in New York will probably be contested.—Alleg.

Why not. Hoffman was only elected by 30,000 majority. This is the old Thad. Stevens' doctrine of treating "elections as if they never had been held."

Pennsylvania Election Returns for 1868--Official.

We give below the full official vote of every county in the State at the recent Presidential election, as well as a table showing the vote for Auditor General in October, which we give for the purpose of comparison. Several thousand votes cast for Seymour in Philadelphia were thrown out by the Radical board of canvassers.

"Little Cambria."

The Democrats of Cambria county have more reason than ever to be proud of their vote at the recent election. In 1866, when the largest vote ever polled by Cambria was given, our majority was 652. At our October election this year we gave a majority of 738—and this, too, in the face of the colonization in the southern portion of the county. A corresponding gain over the State would have carried it for Seymour and Blair.

We congratulate our friends, that all the appliance of the enemy cannot prevent the sturdy Democrats of Cambria county from increasing their already large majority. All honor to our sturdy Democracy and the gallant men who bore our flag triumphantly through the contest.

THE names of Galusha A. Grow, John W. Forney, Andrew G. Curtin, Edwin M. Stanton, and Thomas M. Marshall, are mentioned in connection with the United States Senatorship for Pennsylvania, in place of Buckalew, whose term expires with the present Congress.—Alleghanian.

It is a pity of them, as neither of them will make it. They will elect a man the name of Kimble, from Philadelphia—the same man the Alleghanian reproved, some time ago, for writing an ungentlemanly letter. He is a man sharp on contracts, and has made his "calling and election sure." He and Cameron will make an able team for the great Keystone State. "Let us have peace!"

WE are pained to announce that the Freeman died last week of intermittent election returns.—Alleghanian.

If you were pained why didn't you send for the doctor? Lying can't relieve a pain, and you knew your lie was wilful, if not malicious. The existence of the Freeman is based upon the best subscription list ever held by a paper in Cambria county. It has not lived in spasms like the Alleghanian.

It is true, the result of the election may be death to Freemen—but the Freeman will live!

..Ex-Gov. David Tod, of Ohio, died very suddenly Friday morning, while preparing to take the train for Cleveland.—He presided over the Baltimore Convention which nominated Stephen A. Douglas for President, in 1860, but when the war broke out, allied himself with the "Republican" party, with which he acted until his death.

News of the Week.

..The daughter of the Bishop of Oxford is a convert to Catholicism.

..The hair of James Furguson, of Buffalo, a worker in copper, has, it is said, turned perfectly green.

..The losses of American vessels by shipwrecks in the last ten months exceed twelve million dollars.

..Seventy-two persons have already been announced as "sure" of appointments in President Grant's Cabinet.

..Oregon goes for Seymour by two hundred majority. Oregon is now, and will remain, a Democratic State.

..The majority for Seymour in Louisiana is only 55,190; Forty thousand negroes voted the Democratic ticket.

..The price of wheat in St. Paul, Minnesota, has gone down to 75 and 80 cents per bushel, and flour sells at $5 per barrel.

..The murderess, Kate Johnson, was on Saturday sentenced to be hung at Buffalo, New York, on the 18th of December.

..Two old bachelors of Indianapolis made a novel bet on the election. The loser was either to marry within six weeks or forfeit $500.

..An incorrect itinerant item says that Buchanan and Stevens are buried in the same grave-yard. Their bodies lie more than a mile apart.

..The Pennsylvania Central Railroad, it is claimed, has 532 locomotives—a larger number than any other railroad corporation in the country.

..A woman and four children were burned to death in the hotel at McKinsie, on the Nashville and Northwestern Railroad, in Tennessee, on Friday morning.

..A New York paper suggests as a means of paying the National debt that every office-seeker pay a dollar a week towards its liquidation until he gets an office.

..Gen. Sheridan, it is said, reports that he has seen a herb of buffaloes ninetymiles in length and twenty-five miles in width, and estimates the number it contained at 300,000.

..A party of thirteen families, and numbering seventy-three persons, recently left Clarion county, destined for Dickson county, Tennessee, where they had previously arranged to locate.

..Mrs Victor, who was to be hanged on the 20th inst., for the murder of her brother, Wm. Parquet, has had her sentence commuted by Governor Hayes, of Ohio, to imprisonment for life.

..General M'Clellan has been elected President of the University of California. The election is probably simply intended as a compliment to the General as it is not likely that he can accept the position.

..Thursday morning the body of Jas. Glenn engineer of the Holliday Street Distillery, Baltimore, was found in the machinery, crushed to a shapeless mass. It is supposed he was accidentally caught by the crank.

..In one of the hydraulic mines in California, a stream of water struck a man, named Edward Tyler, threw him down and broke his neck. His body below the neck was completely paralyzed at once, but the head lived for three days, and felt as well as ever.

..Moses Smith, a colored man, died at Washington, D. C., on Wednesday, at at the extreme age of 120 years. Deceased was formerly a slave. His wife is still living, who is nearly as old as her late husband, and their youngest born is now 60 years of age.

..Rev. J. A Roger, Rector of the Church of the Blessed Virgin, and leader of Ritualism, published a card in the Appeal Friday morning, renouncing his allegiance to the Episcopal Church, and declaring his intention to unite with the Roman Catholic Church.

..John Deare was killed by John Grove, in Temperanceville, near Pittsburgh, on Saturday night. Deare, it is supposed, was intoxicated, and while endeavoring to enter Grove's house was shot and instantly killed. Grove has surrendered himself to the authorities.

..The editor of the Norfolk Virginian has discovered a new use for sumac. He says that the blossoms and tender leaves of the sumac, when dried and added to one's smoking tobacco, gives it an exquisite flavor, which the Grand Turk never enjoyed in his perfumed Lakatea.

..The Mayor of Macon, Georgia, lately caught a negro thief, at midnight, robbing his garden. The Mayor shot at him and brought him to a halt. Nothing daunted, the negro indignantly exclaimed that the "time was coming when the people would go where they pleased without being halted."

..The great Tennessee snake story was a good one, but Vermont has the credit of beating it. A paper of that State says that Mr. Stanley, of Randolph, caught a large cricket, and dropped it into the chimney of a burning lamp, and there came out of the cricket a snake some five or six inches in length, and alive and darting out his tongue. Nobody will have the courage and effrontery to try his hand at going ahead of that story.

..Since the signal defeat sustained in Georgia by the hosts of Radicalism, a meeting of white leaders of the party has been held and an association formed, the object of which is to be the exclusion of the colored people from politics, and the formation of a white Radical party in Georgia; these men being satisfied that universal suffrage will not work, and that the measure only brings odium upon themselves and party.

..Weston accomplished his last one hundred miles undertaking, and increased interest therefore attaches to his proposed five thousand miles effort. This pleasant little walk involves a journey from Bangor, Maine, to St. Paul, Minnesota, and thence back to New York, between four P. M. December 1st and four P. M. March 11th—eighty-six days, Sundays being omitted. He will pass through seventeen States, one hundred and eighty-eight counties, seven hundred and twenty-eight cities and towns, taking nine million seven hundred and ninety-four thousand nine hundred and ninety-six steps. He must average fifty-eight and a seventh miles and one hundred and thirteen thousand eight hundred and ninety-five steps a day. The stakes are twenty thousand dollars.

..A Mr. Benjamin Franklin is exciting great attention in England by an ingenious steam engine of his invention.—The engine is extremely simple—piston, crank, steam closet, &c., being dispensed with. It depends entirely upon centrifugal force; friction is almost entirely overcome, and it will produce fifteen hundred revolutions per minute with one-fourth the steam usually required, although the same amount of horse power is developed.

..A sad story comes from Louisville, Ky. A day or two ago a married woman, the mother of a large family of children, one of whom was an unweaned babe, was before a Police Judge of that city, charged with drunkenness. She had been drunk an entire month. Her husband was araigned with her, also charged with drunkenness. The miserable couple, it is said, were discharged with a short sermon from the Judge, as objects rather of pity than of punishment.

..Arthur Glenn, a citizen of Guernsey County, Ohio, was struck by lightning on Sunday week, and instantly killed. In company with another man, he was on his way to church, and being overtaken by a storm, they took shelter under a large tree. The charge passed the entire length of Glenn's body, leaving its track marked upon the surface, and passed out at his foot, scorching to a crisp the shoe which he wore. His comrade was also struck by the same bolt and badly paralyzed, though he escaped with his life.

..Within four hours ride of Montreal by rail is a colony of from twenty thousand to twenty-five thousand Highlanders. The county of Glengary, on the eastern frontier of Upper Canada, is full of them In the back settlements they retain their ancient language, sing their Gaelic songs and have their Gaelic preaching. About half of them are Catholics and half Protestants. The Glengary men are renowned for their size and strength. It is said that the townships of Kenyon and Lechiel alone could turn out a thousand Highlanders, not a man of them under six feet in his stockings.

..A Connecticut man has had an excellent opportunity to do as Enoch Arden did, but he utterly refused. He neglected to write home when away in the army, and was finally reported as dead, when his wife, after mourning the proper time, married again. At last he came back, found his wife comfortably established with her new husband and a new baby, and in his wrath prosecuted each of them, the wife for bigamy and the husband for adultery. Their trial has just been concluded, and both have been acquitted—Now the woman says she will cleave to her last choice.

GEN. GRANT'S VIEWS OF THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.—A statement made last evening by a gentleman in whom may be placed implicit reliance and who enjoys excellent opportunities to enable him to speak intelligently on the subject, may give some indication of Gen. Grant's position in relation to the Republican party. He states that after the General was nominated he sat for quite a long time carefully reading and pondering upon the platform adopted by the Convention; that he finally expressed to his confidential friends that he did not like it, and was in great doubt whether he would accept the nomination on that platform. This coming to the ears of certain leaders of the party they hastened to call upon the General, who stated to them his objections to the platform. This intelligence was received with no little consternation by his visitors, who feared that Grant entertained the intention of declining the nomination. They at once opened upon him with every conceivable argument they could bring forward to induce him to accept, one of which arguments was that the platform need not be regarded by him in so serious a light—it was simply an enunciation of the general principles of the party, necessary only to make up the issues of the campaign. They urged him to accept at all events, and to say nothing more about the platform. Many other arguments of a similar character were used, it is said, which gave Grant to understand that they wanted him to accept the nomination, if even it had to be on a platform of his own adoption.—Washington Cor. N. Y. Herald, Nov 9.

TOUCHING INSTANCE OF CHILDISH DEVOTION.—Three children in New Brunswick got astray. One was about six years of age, the others four and three.—It was a wild region, and in wild weather, and at the edge of night. From signs, it seems that the six year old soon felt sure there was no hope of their being found, or finding themselves that night, and so it took measures at once for the safe-keeping of its little ones. Putting them in the most sheltered nook it could find, it then stripped away the most of its own garments to put on them, and set out to gather dry sea weed and brush to cover them up and defend them. Quite a quantity of this had been gathered and piled about the babes into a sort of a nest, and there they lay when the people found them, still alive; but the six year old matron and martyr lay out on the shore, dead of the cold—lay beside the last pile of brush it had been able to gather, but was not able to bring in.

THE Constitutional Union, a Democratic organ published in Washington by Tom Florence, a member of the Democratic National Resident Committee, contained a short editorial on the 14th inst., which concluded as follows:

The Radical attacks already made upon General Grant are but the avant couriers of quick-coming propositions from the high priests of Radicalism to give Mr. Colfax, and not General Grant, the Republican electoral votes for President. It will not be to us the most astonishing thing in the world if the Democratic electoral votes should be required yet to make General Grant President. At all events, let our lamps be trimmed and burning.

For several days past there have been hints in Washington of a programme, said to be favored by active leading Radicals, having for its object the cheating of Grant out of the Presidency by casting the Radical electoral votes for Schuyler Colfax.

OUR NEW FAMILY
SEWING MACHINE!!

The superior merits of the "Singer" Machines over all others, either for Family use or Manufacturing purposes, are so well established and so generally admitted, that an enumeration of their relative excellences is no longer considered necessary.

OUR NEW FAMILY MACHINE, which has been brought to perfection regardless of time, labor, or expense, is now confidently presented to the public as incomparably the BEST SEWING MACHINE IN EXISTENCE.

The machine in question is SIMPLE, COMPACT, DURABLE and BEAUTIFUL. It is quiet, light running, and CAPABLE OF PERFORMING A RANGE AND VARIETY OF WORK never before attempted upon a single Machine, using either Silk, Twist, Linen or Cotton Thread, and sewing with equal facility the very finest and coarsest materials, and anything between the two extremes, in the most beautiful and substantial manner. Its attachments for Hemming, Braiding, Cording, Tucking, Quilting, Felling, Trimming, Binding, &c., are NOVEL and PRACTICAL, and have been invented and adjusted especially for this Machine.

New designs of the Unique, Useful and Popular Folding Tops and Cabinet Cases, peculiar to the Machines manufactured by this Company, have been prepared for enclosing the new Machine.

A faint idea, however, can at best be conveyed through the medium of a (necessarily) limited advertisement; and we therefore urge every person in quest of a Sewing Machine by all means to examine and test, if they can possibly do so, all the leading rival Machines before making a purchase. A selection can then be made understandingly. Branches or agencies for supplying the "Singer" Machines will be found in nearly every city and town throughout the civilized world, where Machines will be cheerfully exhibited and any information promptly furnished. Or communications may be addressed to

The Singer Manufacturing Company,

ADVERTISING.—There is no doubt that the great lever in the extension of a business, in these go-ahead times, is advertising; but the immense popularity of that celebrated remedy for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Nervous Debility, &c., Hoofland's German Bitters, is not so much owing to the fact that it has been extensively advertised, as it is to the great merit of the article.

A worthless medicine may, through publicity, acquire a short lived notoriety, but it requires the basis of true merit, in order to sustain itself for any considerable length of time. Hoofland's German Bitters has been known to the American public for more than twenty years; each day adding some new proof of its virtues and great curative properties. This Bitters is entirely free from all Alcoholic admixture.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with pure Santa Cruz Rum, orange, anise, &c., making a preparation of rare medical value. The Tonic is used for the same diseases as the Bitters; in cases where ome Alcoholic Stimulus is necessary. Principal Office, 631 Arch St., Philad'a, Pa. Sold by Druggists and others, everywhere. [oc.29-4t.

ADVICE THAT SHOULD BE HEEDED.—We desire to call the attention of the afflicted to the merits of Roback's Blood Pills, a purely vegetable cathartic, free from mercury and all mineral poisons, and undoubtedly the best remedy extant for the radical cure of nervous and sick headache, bilious disorders, and all affections of the Liver and Blood. They are, as their name indicates, a Blood Pill.—They search the blood for disease and strike at the very root, thereby effecting not temporary but permanent cures. As a purgative, they are all that can be desired, being mild and safe in their operation and unquestionably one of our most satisfactory Cathartic Pills, and should be kept in every household, and, when taken in conjunction with Roback's Blood Purifier, are unequalled for curing Scrofula, Skin Disease, Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Dyspepsia, Erysipelas, Tumors, Eruptions, and all diseases arising from a disorganized state of the system. Try these medicines and you will never regret it.—Ask those who have used them and they will tell you they are the best of medicines. no 12.

To Consumptives.

The advertiser, having been restored to health in a few weeks by a very simple remedy, after having suffered several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease, Consumption, is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To all who desire it he will send a copy of the Prescription used (free of charge), with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a SURE CURE for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, &c. The only object of the advertiser in sending the Prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and send information which he conceives to be invaluable; and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing. Parties wishing the Prescription will please address

Physical Education.

The causes of disease often lie beyond our sight, and we learn their nature only by the symptoms. Thus we find out our physical depravity. It may spring from a torpid liver, or inactive kidneys, or a disordered stomach, or impure blood. Now, MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS is a standard remedy for working out morbific matter and purifying the blood and secretions; for invigorating the stomach; forcing with healthy action the liver and spleen; healing and strengthening the kidneys; imparting elasticity to the muscles and a calm force to the nervous system. The debilitated and enfeebled of both sexes and all ages will find it the only true, safe and satisfactory stomachic and alterative Bitters in use, and under its vitalizing operation perfect health and splendid spirits are insured. Sold everywhere.

AS AN APERIENT,

There is no medicine so much in favor with those who are acquainted with their action as Roback's Blood Pills; they are safe, pleasant and mild in their operation, and are purely vegetable; can be taken by children as well as by adults; try them.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS.

As a remedy to soothe all nervous excitement, and in its truest sense a NERVINE, there is, perhaps, no medicine extant which is received with so much favor as Roback's Stomach Bitters. A wine glass full on going to bed is all that is required to produce sound and healthful sleep.

ERYSIPELAS,

Or, St. Anthony's Fire, can be most effectually eradicated by the use of Roback's Blood Purifier in conjunction with Roback's Blood Pills.

OPTHALMIA,

Or, Inflammation of the Eyes, not unfrequently arises from a disordered state of the stomach; a few doses of Roback's Blood Pills will, in most cases, effect a cure by removing the cause.

KEEP YOUR BLOOD PURE.

There are no remedies, now before the public, so well calculated to purify the blood and reconstruct (so to speak) the whole system as Roback's Blood Purifier, Blood Pills and Stomach Bitters.

BAD TASTE

In the mouth in the morning is one of the symptoms of a bilious condition or disordered state of the liver, and should not, for a single day, be neglected, as with out the premonitory symptom of a train of evils and the very seeds of disease. Procure at once Roback's Blood Pills, administer them according to the directions accompanying each box, and the difficulty and danger of disease will at once be removed.

NOT A BEVERAGE.

Unlike most of the bitters of the present day, Dr. Roback's are not intended as a pleasant stimulating whisky beverage, but are perfectly medicinal, containing only sufficient pure bourbon whisky to hold in solution the medicinal extractive matter from which they are composed.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,
AND HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

Prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia. Their introduction into this country from Germany occurred in 1825,

THEY CURED YOUR
FATHERS AND MOTHERS,

And will cure you and your children. They are entirely different from the many preparations now in the country called Bitters or Tonics. They are no tavern preparation, or anything like one; but good, honest, reliable medicines. They are

The greatest known remedies for Liver Complaint,
DYSPEPSIA,
Nervous Debility,
JAUNDICE,
Diseases of the Kidneys,
ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil and Great Depression of Spirits.

All these indicate disease of the Liver or Digestive Organs, combined with impure blood.

Hoofland's German Bitters

is entirely vegetable, and contains no liquor. It is a compound of Fluid Extracts, The Roots, Herbs, and Barks from which these extracts are made are gathered in Germany. All the medicinal virtues are extracted from them by a scientific chemist. These extracts are then forwarded to this country to be used expressly for the manufacture of these Bitters. There is no alcoholic substance of any kind used in compounding the Bitters, hence it is the only Bitters that can be used in cases where alcoholic stimulants are not advisable.

Hoofland's German Tonic

is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with PURE Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, etc. It is used for the same diseases as the Bitters, in cases where some pure alcoholic stimulus is required. You will bear in mind that these remedies are entirely different from any others advertised for the cure of the diseases named, these being scientific preparations of medicinal extracts, while the others are mere decoctions of rum in some form. The TONIC is decidedly one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public. Its taste is exquisite. It is a pleasure to take it, while its life-giving, exhilarating, and medicinal qualities have caused it to be known as the greatest of all tonics.

DEBILITY.

There is no medicine equal to Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic to cure all Debility. They impart a tone and vigor to the whole system, strengthen the appetite, cause an enjoyment of the food, enable the stomach to digest it, purify the blood, give a good, sound, healthy complexion, eradicate the yellow tinge from the eye, impart a bloom to the cheeks, and change the patient from a short-breathed, emaciated weak, and nervous invalid, to a full-faced, stout, and vigorous person.

Weak and Delicate Children are made strong by using the Bitters or Tonic. In fact, they are Family Medicines. They can be administered with perfect safety to a child three months old, the most delicate female, or a man of ninety.

These Remedies are the best Blood Purifiers

ever known, and will cure all diseases resulting from bad blood. Keep your blood pure; keep your Liver in order; keep your digestive organs in a sound, healthy condition, by the use of these remedies, and no disease will ever assail you. The best men in the country recommend them. If years of honest reputation go for anything you must try these preparations.

FROM HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD,
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
PHILADELPHIA, March 18, 1867.

I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is not an intoxicating beverage, but is a good tonic, useful in disorders of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility and want of nervous action, in the system.
Yours truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD.

FROM HON. JAMES THOMPSON,
Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1859.

I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMPSON.

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,
Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

DR. JACKSON—DEAR SIR:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances, and particularly in my own family, of the value of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that for general debility of the system and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes. Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates street.

CAUTION.

Hoofland's German Remedies are counterfeited. The genuine have the signature of C. M. Jackson on the front of the outside wrapper of each bottle, and the name of the article blown in each bottle. All others are counterfeit.

Price of the Bitters, $1 00 per bottle;
Or, a half dozen for $5 00.
Price of the Tonic, $1 50 per bottle;
Or, a half dozen for $7 50.

The tonic is put up in quart bottles.

Recollect that it is Dr. Hoofland's German Remedies that are so universally used and so highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggists to induce you to take anything else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a large profit on it. LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

To CORRESPONDENTS.—"Julia" was too late for this week, but will see herself in print next week. Our fair friend "L. P. K." shall also have a corner in next week's Freeman. The answers of our boy correspondent at Hemlock to last week's charades are correct. His enigma shall find a place in our next issue—too late for this one.

BRIEF MENTION.—Four more young men, residents of Cambria township, were placed under bonds, before Esq. Kinkead, on Monday last, for their appearance at Court to answer for maltreating Mr. George Gurley, of this place, on the day of the October election.——A gay and festive youth who rusticates not many miles from this place, was before Esq. Kinkead, on Saturday evening last charged on oath of a fair "damsiel," who had "loved not wisely but too well," with a certain offence which it is needless to tell. He gave bail for his appearance at Court.——John Noble and David Bee were seriously injured in one of the Cambria Iron Co.'s mines, at Johnstown, on Saturday last, by the premature explosion of a blast. One side of Mr. Noble's face was blown entirely off, and his death was looked for as certain at last accounts. Mr. Bee will doubtless recover. They are both men of families, and we believe brothers-in law.——Daniel McLaughlin, an employee of the Cambria Iron Co., had one of his feet badly crushed, a few days since, by a heavy piece of metal which fell upon it while unloading a cart at the blast furnaces, near Johnstown.——A man named Lake was considerably injured, on Saturday evening last, by the caving in upon him of a cellar which he was engaged in excavating in Woodvale, adjoining Johnstown. ——A young man named C. B. Gavitt, representing himself as agent for a hoop skirt house in Philadelphia, presented a forged draft for fifty dollars on his alleged employer, at the First National Bank, Johnstown, on Thursday last, and received the money for it. The cashier afterwards telegraphed to Philadelphia and learning that Gavitt was a "fraud," forthwith called on that gentleman and made him disgorge, which he did after borrowing seven dollars from two other parties to make up the amount. He then left for parts unknown.——The meteoric shower, on Friday night and Saturday morning last, is said by those who witnessed it hereaways to have been exceedingly grand and brilliant, at the Washington Naval Observatory some twenty-five hundred meteors per hour for five hours is said to have been observed.——Since the coal dealers have been required to weigh all the coal they sell to our citizens, it is said they have raised the price of bituminous coal to $5 per ton, or 20 cents per bushel, which is certainly a most exhorbitant price. It has been suggested that consumers should either club together and buy their coal by the car load, or else petition our borough council to buy a large quantity of coal and supply it at just what it costs—say 13 or 14 cents per bushel for Westmoreland coal, delivered at the buyers house. We don't know anything about the feasibility of the latter plan, but we think that some action is demanded in the matter.——The Johnstown Tribune, in a lengthy article, favors the election of Hon. John Scott, of Huntingdon, as United States Senator. He is certainly competent for and worthy of the position, and has the prestige of having at one time been a Democrat which may also be said of nearly all the leading men in the Republican ranks.——William Drum, indicted at Greensburg for the killing of David Mohegan, several months since, was, on Saturday last, found guilty of murder in the second degree. A motion was made by defendant's counsel for a new trial and arrest of judgment ——Wild game, and especially wild turkeys, are said to be unusually plentiful in Bedford county just now.——A son of Daniel Bayers, of South Woodberry township, Bedford county, was killed by being caught in the tumbling shaft of a threshing machine, on the 80th ult.——Bishop Domenec lectured in Altoona, on Monday night, for the benefit of the Catholic schools in that place.——An old man named Israel Thomas was run over by Mail train west, near Tyrone station, on the 6th inst., and had both legs crushed below the knee. His legs have since been amputated, and will probably live.——The barn of Joseph Fisher, in Cumberland Valley township, Bedford county, was destroyed by fire on Sunday evening week. The building was a new one, and was filled with Mr. F.'s summer crop. The fire was the work of an incendiary.——Andrew Horn, of St. Clair township, Bedford county, walked out of church a few days since, and fell dead before any of his friends reached him. John Bowers, of Napier township, same county, was found dead in his bed on Saturday morning week.——Next Thursday will be Thanksgiving day, and as yet not a turkey has found its way to our premises. Don't some lady desire the honor of presenting the printer with a gobbler for his thanksgiving dinner——Elizabeth, N. J., the home of Father Lemke, experienced four distinct shocks of earthquake on Sunday night last, chairs, tables, beds, etc., swayed to and fro, but no damage was done.——Mr. R. R Thomas has received the appointment of weigh-master from our borough authorities.——a passenger train of six cars ran from Pittsburg to Altoona, a few days since, in three hours and forty minutes.——Joseph Zidner, watchmaker and jeweller, has opened out opposite our office, and solicits work in his line. Joe is a tip-top mechanic, and as he means business in earnest we hope he will get plenty to do.——James E. McGough, of Clearfield township, lost his pocket-book containing about $100 in money and $300 in valuable papers, on Thursday last, while crossing Clearfield Creek. On Saturday the pocket-book was found, but there was only $5 of the money in it.——Mr. J. P. Donahoe, of St. Augustine, cut one of his feet very severely by making a mis-stroke with an axe while chopping wood, a few days ago.——Thomas Campbell, son of the editor of the Altoona Vindicator, had one of his fingers taken off by the cog-wheels of a job press, one day last week.

THE CONTINENTAL VOCALISTS.—This celebrated troupe gave the Ebensburgers a concert on Saturday night and another on Monday night. On both occasions a large and appreciative audience greeted the performers, and all were delightfully entertained and greatly gratified. One feature, not more commendable than rare, was the absence of anything approaching the vulgar or irreverent in the whole programme. We trust the Continentals will not forget to visit us again at an early day.

SOCIAL PARTY.—The De Lemke Association will have its anniversary celebration on the 26th of the present month, at the hall of Mr. Blum, in Carrolltown. The amplest arrangements will be made to have such an entertainment as will do justice to the good Father Henry as well as to his friends and admirers in Carrolltown and neighborhood. A cordial invitation is extended to all persons wishing to enjoy a pleasant reunion.

FATHER LEMKE.—A lady correspondent has written us for one or more copies of the Freeman, dated April 26th, 1867, containing the following brief notice of that venerable prelate and estimable man, Rev. Peter Henry Lemke, and as we are not able to comply with the request, we have deemed it best to reproduce the article from our files, trusting that those of our readers who have already perused it will not begrudge the space it occupies:

THE LEMKE ASSOCIATION.—The citizens of Carrolltown have organized themselves into an Association with the above title. For its objects we refer to the correspondence of "Iago," who, we believe, is an officer of the Society. The Association has done the editor of the FREEMAN the honor of electing him an honorary member. We do not now purpose to dwell upon the aims and purposes of this Society, but we do purpose of speaking a few words of the venerable man whose name has been adopted by the Association.

PETER HENRY LEMKE, after serving many years with distinction in the wars that desolated Germany, left the army, and turning his attention to theology, was some time after admitted into the Catholic church, and subsequently received the order of priesthood. After laboring awhile in his vocation near his old home, he emigrated to the United States, and his advent into Cambria county was about the year 1834.

In 1840 there was no Catholic church in Cambria county north of Ebensburg and Loretto, except a small log building known as St. Joseph's some two miles north-west of Carrolltown. About this time Rev. Mr. Lemke took up his residence at what is now the old monastery building, on the west side of Carrolltown. Here he commenced his labors, and continued them until that infant settlement became the largest congregation in Cambria county.

The writer of this article remembers well being on the spot where Carrolltown now stands in the summer of 1839. At that time the whole settlement was known as "Hart's Sleeping Place," from the fact that Jacob Hart, an old German who traded with the Indians, had built a hut in this locality, where he slept in his journeyings along the Kittanning Path from the eastern settlements to those west of the Allegheny mountains. More recently, however, the neighborhood of Hart's cabin began to be designated as the "Weakland Settlement," while some three miles distant the "clearing" that was opened was known as the "Luther Settlement."

Carrolltown is between these settlements, and at the period we refer to was mostly virgin forest. A small opening had been made and a cabin built by Mr. John Campbell, whose successor in its occupancy Father Lemke became. Now, when the venerable priest visits the scene of his former labors, he finds a borough numbering some 5 0 inhabitants—fine and tasteful dwellings, good hotels, thriving merchants and artizans, and a church among the very largest in Western Pennsylvania, surrounded by as industrious and thriving an agricultural population as can be found in the State. And all this population, industry and wealth is mainly owing to the energy and zeal of one man, and that man Rev P. H. Lemke

We shall not dwell upon the clerical labors, the privations, the toils of Father Lemke, as that is matter for a religious rather than a political paper But all who read these lines will agree with us in admiration of the moral worth, as well as the genial and unceasing flow of kindness and warmth of feeling that characterized the man.

Father Lemke now resides at Elizabeth, N J., where he is the centre, as he was here, of a devoted congregation. Long may he be spared to them; and long, long will he be held in grateful remembrance by his old friends in Cambria county, to whom he was a father and benefactor.

The Lemke Association, then, has adopted a worthy name, and we only hope its members may emulate the virtues and genial charities which adorned his life and character.

CONTENTNENT —Be content as long as your mouth is full and your body warm. Remember the poor; kiss your wife or sweetheart; don't rob your neighbor's turkey roost nor pick an editor's pocket in hope of getting anything; kick dull care to the deuce or that other fellow, and be sure to buy all the groceries you need, from a barrel of flour to a link of bologna sausage, from our next door neighbor, M. L. Oatman, who keeps the largest, the freshest, the most varied and the cheapest assortment of groceries, provisions, cigars, tobacco, confectioneries, etc., to be found in Northern Cambria, and who is receiving the custom of all classes because he merits it by fair dealing and by selling only the purest and best of articles at the very lowest prices.

"DEMOREST'S MONTHLY."—The Christmas number of this admirable conducted magazine is out, and is really a gem. The fashions are profuse, the contents, literary and artistic, of the highest class. There is a beautifully illustrated Household department, music, and each worth the cost of the magazine. We do not see how any lady can afford to be without it. It has, moreover, none of the frivolty of the ordinary class of fashion magazines, but much of the high tone, and sensible, practical character of the best European Monthlies. Subscribe for it. $3 per year, with a premium. Published at 473 Broadway, N. Y.

IMPROVEMENT.—Mr. George Huntley has had a new roof put upon the rear portion of his extensive store room, and under the roof he has now one of the most complete assortments of goods in his line that is kept by any dealer in the county. It is the height of folly for any person to hope to do better anywhere in the purchase of a cooking or heating stove, hardware, cutlery, groceries, and hundreds of other things, than they can do with Mr. Huntley. He buys right and sells right, and is therefore the right man to deal with. Let him have your custom.

DOING WELL —We are pleased to learn that Mr. A. H. Faller has met with very gratifying encouragement since opening his restaurant in the Cambria House building. He commenced by reducing the price of oysters and furnishing the largest and most luscious ever served up in this place, and it is not strange that he should prosper. Oysters, pig's feet, tripe, hot coffee, etc., is now his bill of fare. He pays the highest price in cash for pig's feet.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—This valuable monthly for December is before us, rich, as usual, in literary matter, but richer still in useful information for that sex whose object it is to amuse and instruct. We would suggest to those who desire this magazine, and all should have it, that now is the time to subscribe in order to begin with the new year. Terms $3 per annum, Address L. A. Godey, Philadelphia.

CAN'T DO IT.—We can't get the words to jingle or we would say something poetic this week about H. A. Shoemaker & Co.'s superb and extensive stock of dress goods, notions, etc., but we trust that none of our readers will be any way backward on that account in calling at the popular establishment referred to, and buying just what they need, for they cannot do better in stock and prices at any store in Cambria county.

OLD folks and young folks, big folks and little folks, rich folks and poor folks, are all invited to call at R. R. Davis' great mercantile mart on High street, and see the best selection of fall and winter goods now on exhibition in this market. No better place to buy cheap can be found anywhere.

Local Correspondence.

JOHNSTOWN, Nov. 16, 1868.

Mr. Editor—You asked me for some local. Well, our local is all general this week, except the laying of the corner stone of the German Catholic church. The day was fine and the big stone was put down in fine order. It took about five thousand persons to lay it. No doubt some one else will send you a full description of the ceremony.

John H—— is not pleased about the "Grecian Bend." I blame that on Mac-Shane, though he thinks it was the other Mac. John is a clever fellow, and as he never gets on a bender, we would say "hands oph."

It is thought now that "Nasby" was mistaken about his "Bantie" crowing to "Vote for Seymour and Blair" and that the real meaning of the crow is, "Join the Salt River Crew!" At any rate, "crow" in the past tense, would be some kind of a "crew," but as it came from a rooster, the whole thing may have been a roos.

I wrote over on the other side, which is no relation to Anthony Over, but merely to let you know that you should read my letter on, just like you do a book, till you come to "The End."

Our police were guilty of a hoggish act last week impounding four swine that belonged to a butcher. They took them on the principle that "every creature loves its like"—very likely!

We had a meteoric-(hic) shower here the other night. The illuminati—hoc est, the preachers that illuminated the other night—thought that the judgment had come. They judged conscienciously. One of the more intelligent said he thought, by Jove, that all the planets, but Jupiter, had fallen. The matter was referred to one of the Elders, who said that there was no danger, as it was only a heavenly hallucination.

I heard of another accident, resulting in death, at the Company's coal mines, on last Saturday night. Our mutual friend, Frank Maloy, escaped a cruel death near Conemaugh station. The reason there has been so many fatal accidents this summer, in this vicinity, is because we have such an efficient Coroner.

Captain Hite, who is six feet in hight already, will soon attain a greater heighth, in which case you must watch that he doesn't get giddy. when Z him goes on the retired list. The Captain will make a faithful officer.

It is denied here that Mr. Hunt has sued Mr Campbell. What could he sue for, unless it is costs?

Some one suggests that as one of your eminent citizens was placed "horse du combat" at your illumination the other night, that this sad event may detract from the raceness of the next fare which would be a sad affair, for a dis-"Charge De Affair."

MACSHANE, JR.

HARDWARE.—John Benton has associated with him Mr. Harry Wehn as a partner in the hardware and cutlery business in Johnstown. They have just received from the East a large assortment of goods, embracing everything in their line, from a knitting needle up to a willow sleigh basket, box or bed. The reader can find them at the old stand of Mr. Benton near the postoffice. Mr. B., is a mechanic and knows how to select good wares, and Mr. W. is a practical salesman and knows how to sell them. Call and see all both of them, and talk awhile, then buy awhile. You will find the former Bent on doing a good business and the latter a trump Wehn he is started.

Go when the morning shineth,
Go when the sun is bright;
Go in all kinds of weather,
And go with all your might—
And a little of your money—to Spence's New Gallery, Ebensburg, and have a few pictures taken. You can get any style you wish, either Photographs, Ambrotypes, Ferreotypes, or large Pictures for Frames. A good assortment of Frames and Albums for sale.—So come one and all, both great and small, and be convinced of the truth—have a picture taken, and go your way rejoicing.

TALL JUMPING —The man in the moon can jump two hundred and sixty-four feet high. The diameter of the moon is only 2000 miles, whereas that of the earth is 8000 miles; consequently the attraction of the moon is sixty-four times less than that of the earth The earth's attraction is greatly augmented by the fact that Frank W. Hay has filled up every corner of the country with stoves—heavy stoves, parlor stoves, cook stoves, fancy stoves, at such low prices that everybody jumps at them.

OFFICIAL.—Mr. Mayer, of Johnstown, very truly remarks, that "groste Auswahl von Ellenwaaren, Pelzwaaren, Putzmacherei ist zu haben fur die billigsten Preisen in dem beruhmten, New York Dry Goods Laden." Mr. Maher has the best, the cheapest and handsomest Dry Goods and Fancy Goods in North America. Nuddan sych bonetian a hatian yughyd a furs y rhataf yn Johnstown; Bydded ir cyhaed i dulu ymweliad a ni syn pryun newn manan ereill.

L. COHEN & BROTHER, Johnstown, not M. Cohen & Brother, have just received a very large quantity of ready-made clothing, all sizes, filling their capacious room chalk full, or chock full, or chuck-full. Their motto is, "amamas vendere." They took in just five hundred dollars last Saturday. Das ist recht, which translated means that their immeasurable successfulness has indiscriminately alarmed their anti-prestidigitatorial oppositionists tremendously.

WELCOME.—The gladsome days of Indian summer are now with us, and although their stay will be but brief, it will be sufficiently ample to enable everybody to visit the celebrated cheap store of J. Patton Thompson, before the inclement weather sets in, and make such selections from his extensive and magnificent stock as their wants demand.

ASTONISHING —It is said to be astonishing how the children at our public schools do learn from the books they buy at C. T. Roberts' clock, watch, jewelry, book and variety store. Remember that he keeps all kinds of books used in the schools of this county, and sells them just as cheap as the publishers themselves offer them at retail.

SHOOTING STARS.—There was a shower of meteors on the night of the 13th inst., as was anticipated. They fell from South to North. This strange phenomenon was occasioned, no doubt; by the great rush to the Star Clothing Store of James J. Murphy, the cheapest and best in town. Murphy's prices fell with the stars.

KEIM & COBAUGH.—This is the name of a new firm in Kernville, Johnstown, near the end of the iron bridge, where dry goods, groceries, boots and shoes, queensware, willow-ware, carpets and such articles are sold at panic prices. Hides taken in exchange for goods.

HAVE YOU CHILDREN TO EDUCATE?—Send them to the State Normal School at Edinboro. The instruction is sound, systematic and practical.

CHARADE, NO. 3.

ORIGINAL.

My first in the garden, where flowers do bloom,
You will find, and likewise in mistress's room;
'Tis oft on a wagon, when laden it goes,
And each streamlet and river right over it flows.

But the point where that river is not over deep—
A place where its banks are not rough and not steep—
My second is found, where the traveler may Cross over my first when pursuing his way.

My whole is of England a county or shire,
And in Pennsylvania the same doth appear;
Besides, 'tis a borough where invalids go
For health-giving waters, which constantly flow.

CHARADE, NO. 4.

SELECTED.

The first is for love and thee, Mary!
The first is for love and thee;
And so firmly hold
Those links of gold,
That the second it shall never be, Mary!

The second is ever free, Mary!
Free as the foaming brine—
As the fires that fly
From the poet's eye,
Or the laughter that speaks in thine, Mary.

Though the first be a wayward thing, Mary!
Though a wayward thing it be;
When thought hath power
In the midnight hour,
Be sure it is ever with thee, Mary.

The Lost Pocket-Book.

Several years ago a gentleman residing in Courtland street went out early one morning for a walk, and to get the breeze from the river.

When near Greenwich street he saw a pocket-book on the sidewalk, and of course picked it up.

No one was near of whom he could make inquiry, so he put it in his pocket, and on reaching home showed it to his wife, who, on examining the outside, said, "This belongs to some poor woman, who is a nice body, I know, by the way she has tied it up, so neat and so careful.—What is in it?" "I don't know," said he. "Well, then, let us see," said she, "whether it be a prize or not."

On opening it they found $45 in bills and two quarters, neatly rolled up and tied with a thread; also a thimble, a bodkin, and a pair of scissors. "There, did I not tell you it was a woman's pocket-book?" said she; "now this must be advertised; the owner can call and describe everything in it, and she must and shall get it."

So an advertisement was put in the evening paper. The next morning early a lady called in commendable distress, having lost her pocket-book. When asked to describe it she gave a description of one so different that she was promptly told that this pocket-book was not hers. The next one could not describe hers, but she would know it if she saw it, and didn't want any unless it was her own. She was shown an old one lying in the drawer, which, after looking at it all around, she returned with a smile, saying, "that is not mine." Soon after another "lady" called and described this last pocket-book to a dot; when told she had not lost the pocket book found and advertised she left. In the afternoon she called again with a gentleman and another lady, and made formal demand for the waif, and was again refused. The gentleman then spoke up, announcing himself as a lawyer and counsel for the lady, and demanded the pocket-book with much fervor, and promising the full extent of legal punishment if denied.

The finder rang the bell, and his man Sam came bowing into the room to see what was wanted.

Instead of directing him to hand around the wine (which was the fashion in those days) he was ordered to "show the lawyer, who is not a gentleman, to the front door, and off the front stoop, and if he don't go quickly, Sam, kick him out."—The party left, swearing vengeance. Thus it went for two whole days; it got to be a neighborhood talk, and many called in to see the fun.

Early the third morning a middle aged woman was seen in front of the house examining it, also a slip of paper which she held in her hand. "Ah! here is your woman," says the lady. "Sam, open the door."

She came in, presented the advertisement, and said, "I lost my pocket-book the other morning, containing the quarter's rent—$45.50, that I was going to pay to my landlord in Greenwich street; I had been to the market, and when I got to the place where I had to pay I found I had lost it, and I don't know what I shall do if this that you have found is not mine." "But it is yours," says the lady, "and you are the only one that has described it out of the dozens that have called, and you are welcome to it." The woman was much rejoiced and wanted to pay the expense of advertising. "No," said the lady, "we have had more than that worth of fun, besides finding out a little more of human nature than we knew before."—New York Citizen.

How to Make Hens Lay.—Many persons feed hens too much for laying.—To keep twenty hens through the winter, give three pints of corn and two of oats or buckwheat per day; also, about twice a week, give them shorts or bran wet with sour milk, of which they seem very fond; make it quite wet and put in a large spoonful of ground black pepper. Give them all the green stuff that can be had—such as cabbage leaves, paring of apples, cores and all, etc. So fed, with comfortable quarters, they will lay all winter. Change cocks every spring. In proof of the above, we will merely observe that a neighbor had among a lot of hens one that would not lay under any circumstances; and as such hens are not profitable to keep, she was considered a fit subject for the pot.—On dressing, she was found to be literally filled with fat, instead of egg ovaries.

A Tough Story.—Miss Mary Hulburt, from whose body physicians have extracted during the past ten years at least one thousand needles and pins, was found dead in her bed, at Susquehanna, N. Y., last week. She would never give any account of the manner in which they were introduced, whether she swallowed them or thrust them directly into her flesh, nor did her friends, by watching her, ever find out. They were found at different times working on the surface of almost every part of her body, but chiefly on the limbs. A lady who refused to believe the stories about their removal, states that she went to satisfy herself, and saw a physician extract nearly fifty from one arm. The girl seemed to be very little affected by the operation.

Destruction of Stumps.—We have heard of two methods of getting rid of stumps, which as they appear feasible, and not expensive, we hope some reader will try, and report them. Bore with a two inch auger to the heart or centre, fill the cavity thus made with sulphuric acid or with crude petroleum. In the first case, the acid becomes the destructive agent within a few months; in the latter when the stump becomes saturated, as it will, with the oil it is fired, and will burn out to the last particle, like a candle.

"If there is anybody under the canister of Heaven that I have in utter excrescence," says good Mrs. Partington, "it is the slander, going about like a boy constructor, circulating his calomel upon honest folks."

Y., to New York City; and the Editorial and Business Office to New Brunswick N. J., (near N. York) where its proprietor owns a farm within the City limits, of 122 acres, worth $50 000; and also has a large cash capital to ensure permanency to his publication. Club Agents wanted everywhere, who are paid a very liberal compensation. Samples of paper, blank subscription lists, etc., sent free. Address T. B. MINER, N. Brunswick, New Jersey.

ST. LOUIS AND IRON MOUNTAIN
RAILROAD COMPANY'S Seven per cent. first Mortgage Bonds. February and Aug. Coupons. The earnings of the complete road to Pilot Knob are now more than the interest on the entire mortgage. The proceeds of these Bonds are adding to the security every day.—Over $8,000,000 have been spent on the property, and not over $2 000,000 of bonds issued thus far. The constantly increasing traffic of carrying ore, with the prospect of controlling all the travel from St. Louis to the Southern States, ensures an enormous revenue. The Directors own $10 of the stock for investment, and are interested to enrich the property as well as to economise its expenses.
THOS. ALLEN, Pres't, St. Louis, Mo.
We, the undersigned, cordially recommend these seven per cent mortgage bonds of the St. Louis and Iron Mountain Railroad as a good security. The revenue of the road will be large and the administration of the affairs of the Company is in capable and experienced hands, and entitled to the greatest confidence of the public.

YACHT CLUB SMOKING TOBACCO
Is everywhere pronounced, by competent judges to be superior to others for the following reasons:
It is made of the finest stock grown.
It has a mild and agreeable aroma.
It is anti-nervous in its effects, as
It is free from drugs, the Nicotine
Having also been extracted.
It leaves no acrid, disagreeable aftertaste.
Does not sting or burn the tongue.
Leaves no offensive oder in the room.
Orders for elegant Meerschaum Pipes
Are daily packed in various bags.
It is of a bright golden color.
Being very light, one pound will last
Two to three times as long as others.
Buy it, try it, and convince yourself. If Your dealer does not keep it ask him to get it.

EUREKA SMOKING TOBACCO
Is also a very good article, and makes an excellent smoke. It is much lower in price and of heavier body than the former, and its sale, wherever introduced, is not only permanent but constantly on the increase. Orders for elegant Meerschaum Pipes are also placed in the various bags of this brand daily.
Be sure you get Lorillard's.
We are still packing $100 daily in Century Chewing Tobacco, and have lately improved its quality very much.

THE MERCHANTS'
PROTECTIVE UNION
MERCANTILE REFERENCE REGISTER.
The Merchants' Protective Union, organized to promote and protect trade, by enabling its subscribers to attain facility and safety in the granting of credits, and the recovery of claims at all points, have to announce that they will, in September, 1868, publish in one large quarto volume:
The Merchants' Protective Union Mercantile Reference Register, containing, among other things, the Names, Nature of Business, Amount of Capital, Financial Standing, and Rating as to Credit, of over 400,000 of the principal merchants, traders, bankers, manufacturers, and public companies, in more than 30,000 of the cities, towns, villages, and settlements throughout the United States, their territories, and the British Provinces of North America; and embracing the most important information attainable and necessary to enable the merchant to ascertain at a glance the Capital, Character, and Degree of Credit of such of his customers as are deemed worthy of any gradation of credit, comprising, also, a NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY, containing the title, character, price, and place of publication, with full particulars relative to each journal, being a complete guide to the press of every county, in the United States.
The reports and information will be confined to those deemed worthy of some line of credit; and as the same will be based, so far as practicable, upon the written statements of the parties themselves, revised and corrected by well known and reliable legal correspondents, whose character will prove a guarantee of the correctness of the information furnished by them, it is believed that the reports will prove more truthful and complete, and, therefore, superior to, and of much greater value, than any previously issued.
By aid of the Mercantile Reference Register, business men will be enabled to ascertain at a glance, the capital and gradation of credit, as compared with financial worth, of nearly every merchant, manufacturer, trader, and banker, within the above-named territorial limits.
On or about the first of each month, subscribers will also receive the Monthly Chronicle, containing, among other things, a record of such important changes in the name and condition of firms, throughout the country, as may occur subsequent to the publication of each half yearly volume of the Mercantile Reference Register.
Price of The Merchants' Union Mercantile Reference Register, fifty dollars, ($50,) for which it will be forwarded to any address in the United States, transportation paid.
Holders of five $10 shares of the Capital Stock, in addition to participating in the profits, will receive one copy of the Mercantile Reference Register free of charge; holders of ten shares will be entitled to two copies; and no more than ten shares of the Capital Stock will be allotted to any one applicant.
All remittances, orders, or communications relative to the book should be addressed to the Merchants' Protective Union, in the American Exchange Bank Building, No. 128 Broadway, (Box 2566,) New York.

BACK TO FIRST PRINCIPLES
BOOTS AND SHOES
OF MY OWN MANUFACTURE.
WHAT I MAKE I CAN WARRANT!
After an experience of more than a year in the sale of Eastern made work, during which time I have expended more than the profits in repairing rips and tares, I have determined to come back to first principles and henceforth confine myself to the manufacture of BOOTS and SHOES for Men, Youths, Ladies and Misses, and am now better prepared than ever to give entire satisfaction in my business.
I have at present in my employ a competent corps of workmen, and can say without fear of contradiction that I can turn out as neat and substantial Boots and Shoes at as moderate prices as can be made anywhere in the State. I am having Boots made of the finest French Calfskin, and within the past month or two have had orders pouring in upon me from all quarters for this kind of work. The material in these Boots is the best to be found in the market, and the workmanship, both in neatness and strength, cannot be excelled at any other establishment in the country.
MY TRAIN ALWAYS ON TIME!
All work will be ready for delivery at the time promised. Weddings, visits and other interesting or important occurrences need not be postponed through any failure on my part to come to time.
Good work and moderate prices is my motto, and one trial will convince any person that the motto is well chosen.
☞ Repairing of Boots and Shoes attended to promptly and in a workmanlike manner.
Thankful for past favors I feel confident that my work and prices will commend me to a continuance and increase of the same.

MARBLE WORKS!
Having again taken charge of the branch Marble Works at Ebensburg, which he will operate in connection with his extensive establishment at Johnstown, the subscriber adopts this method of informing the citizens of Cambria county, that he keeps a constant supply of the best ITALIAN AND AMERICAN MARBLE, which he is prepared at stated times in Ebensburg and at all times in Johnstown, to manufacture to order, either as MONUMENTS, TOMBSTONES, MANTLES, TABLE or BUREAU TOPS, in as workmanlike manner and at as low prices as like work can be put up in any of the cities. Having in my employ a full force of experienced and skillful workmen, I do not promise too much when I say that I can furnish any of the above articles on short notice, at the lowest prevailing prices, and in a style of finish which cannot be excelled by any other manufacturer in the State.
A large stock of GRINDSTONES on hand and for sale cheap.
☞ Prompt attention paid to orders from a distance and work put up wherever desired, or delivered at any point named.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!
A WASHING MACHINE WORTH HAVING!

DOTY'S Clothes WASHER.
The best ever invented
The longer THEY ARE Used the better THEY ARE LIKED.
They are coming into general use throughout the country.
Many who sell the Universal Wringer keep also the Doty WASHING MACHINE, which, although but recently introduced, is as great a Labor and Clothes Saver as the Wringer, and is destined to win public favor and patronage everywhere.
It washes perfectly without wearing or rubbing the clothes at all.
☞ Prices—Family Washer, $14. No. 1½ Wringer, $10.
These Machines are adopted by the American Agriculturist as Premiums, and endorsed by its Editors as the best in market.
HOME TESTIMONY.
Read the following testimonials from persons in Ebensburg who have used and learned to appreciate these valuable Machines:
Mr. G. Huntley—We have used one of Doty's Washing Machines, which we purchased from you several weeks since, and it gives entire satisfaction. We cheerfully recommend it to all housekeepers, and are free to say that we would not dispense with it for any consideration. It is a great saver of time, labor and clothes.
LINTON & SON, Mountain House.
I purchased one of Doty's Washers from Mr G. Huntley and am delighted with it, and would recommend every housekeeper to get one. Mrs. A. M. PIPER.
Mr. G. Huntley—The Doty Washing Machine I purchased from you proves to be an article of real merit—the best I have ever seen. Considering the great relief it affords in the labor of washing and the saving of time, no family should be without it.
WM. M. JONES.
Mr. Geo. Huntley—I am delighted with the Doty Washer purchased from you.—The more I use it the better I like it. I would not be without it. It is a great saver of time and labor, and does not wear the clothes as much as the old tub and washboard. Mrs. A. BLAINE.
